

By Mike Knowles

Tuesday 2nd November 2021, 14:03 GMT

What next for the fresh produce business?

As we head towards 2022, we want you to tell us what's really happening in the world of fruit and vegetables

With the end of another difficult and demanding year in sight, Fruitnet is preparing to report on the major changes, challenges and trends that will shape the fresh fruit and vegetable business in 2022.

As part of our coverage, we want to hear from you. We want your views on the big challenges ahead, your predictions for major consumer trends, and your assessment of products and markets that will offer the best commercial opportunities in the 12 months to come.

Please click here to take part in the survey, which should take no more than five minutes.

Anyone in the business can take part. By focusing on just three simple areas, Fruitnet aims to collect a broad range of views on the trade's potential development over the coming 12 months.

So, if you have five minutes to spare, we would very much welcome your contribution.

Enjoyed this free article from Eurofruit Magazine and its team of editors? Don't miss out on even more in-depth analysis, plus all the latest news from the fresh produce business. Subscribe now to Eurofruit Magazine.